

SPONSORSHIP OPPORTUNITIES

Support Community Livability Across the West

Your sponsorship helps expand high-quality community development training, builds regional capacity, and strengthens the people who strengthen our communities. CDI West brings together elected officials, tribal leaders, community and economic development professionals, university Extension professionals, nonprofit staff, and local champions committed to improving places where people live, work, and thrive.

Your financial support is tax deductible; fiscal handling for CDI West is administered by the Extension Foundation. Donations to CDI West, made through the Extension Foundation, are tax deductible to the extent permitted by law.

Why Sponsor CDI West?

- Support professional training that strengthens community resilience.
- Connect with leaders and practitioners across the Western U.S.
- Increase visibility among decision-makers and changemakers.
- Demonstrate commitment to community well-being and regional vitality.
